Description

This spacious 56 sqm European-style two-room apartment is located in a pre-revolutionary mansion built in 1914 on Malaya Bronnaya, right in the heart of Moscow, just a few minutes' walk from Patriarch's Ponds. The building belongs to an exclusive club-style residence with a limited number of apartments, a fenced private courtyard, and a gated entrance with a barrier, ensuring peace, privacy, and security.

The apartment features a brand-new designer renovation and a thoughtfully planned layout that combines a spacious kitchen and living room into a bright open-plan area, while the bedroom remains completely separate. This functional design eliminates dark hallways and makes the most of every square metre.

Transport connectivity is excellent: Pushkinskaya and Mayakovskaya metro stations are just a 7- to 12-minute walk away, and surface parking is available within the fenced, barrier-controlled territory.
